

OFFICE OF THE INSPECTOR GENERAL OF THE INTELLIGENCE COMMUNITY NEWS RELEASE

Inspector General of the Intelligence Community Offers Opportunity to Work at One of the “Best Places in the Federal Government”

(December 13, 2018) Inspector General of the Intelligence Community Michael K. Atkinson is pleased to announce that the Intelligence Community (IC) has been named as one of the “Best Places to Work in the Federal Government” for the 10th consecutive year. This year the IC ranked fifth overall among 17 participating large agencies, according to independent analysis of federal workers’ job satisfaction and commitment in rankings compiled by the Partnership for Public Service.

The Office of the Inspector General of the Intelligence Community (ICIG) employs a diverse group of talented and highly skilled professionals who provide critical subject matter expertise. The ICIG staff includes permanent employees, employees from other Intelligence Community elements on detail to the ICIG, and contractors.

The Intelligence Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2010 established the Office of the Inspector General of the Intelligence Community within the Office of the Director of National Intelligence. The ICIG’s mission is to provide independent and objective oversight of the programs and activities within the responsibility and authority of the Director of National Intelligence, to initiate and conduct independent audits, inspections, investigations, and reviews, and to lead and coordinate the efforts of the Intelligence Community Inspectors General Forum. The ICIG’s goal is to have a positive and enduring impact throughout the Intelligence Community, to lead and coordinate the efforts of an integrated Intelligence Community Inspectors General Forum, and to enhance the ability of the United States Intelligence Community to meet national security needs while respecting our nation’s laws and reflecting its values. The Forum consists of the twelve statutory and administrative Inspectors General having oversight responsibility for an element of the Intelligence Community. The Chair of the Forum is the Inspector General of the Intelligence Community.
